YOUNG MEN'S BUSINESS ASSOCIA-TION DECIDES TO AMALGAMATE.

ACTION IS UNANIMOUS.

After a Full Dicussion of the ject, a Resolution is Adopted Look. ing to Merging the Two Business

The Young Men's Business Association will soon pass out of existence.

After a life of more than four years, during which time it has accomplished much for the good of the city, the association has determined to merge with the Chamber of Commerce.

This was decided upon at a meeting held last night, when the following reso-

Resolved, That it is the sense of this meeting of the Young Men's Business Association that it is expedient to consolidate with the Chamber of Commerce, provided that a satisfactory basis can be agreed upon by a joint committee of five from both bodies, and that the committee report back to the Young Men's mittee report back to the Young Men's Business Association.

The meeting was largely attended and much interest was manifested in the proceedings by all present. The routine business, including the making of regular reports, was disposed of briefly, and several addresses were made by members. THE QUESTION OF AMALGAMATION

Under the head of new business, the proposition to amalgamate the association with the Chamber of Commerce was considered, and the resolution reported above was offered.

A member desired to know whether overtures for the amalgamation were received from the Chamber of Commerce. The president, in reply, stated that the suggestion came some time ago from a suggestion came some time ago from a vice-president of the Chamber, and later the matter was informally discussed by gentlemen from both organizations. The president favored amaignmation, for several reasons, chief among which was the fact that the association has no home of its own. He also pointed out the fact that the Chamber of Commerce was sure to remain in existence, and the perpetuity of the association would be sons called on President McKinley, at

Mr. L. McK. Judkins was afraid the association membership, by merging their identity, would not take as much ride as at present in advancing the ob-cets of its existence. The influence of members would be overshadowed. He ttached importance to the overtures oming from the Chamber of Commerce. The question was whether by amalga-mating the association membership would infuse new life in the Chamber or lose its own usefulness by losing its Missouri-Pembroke R. Flitcher and William H. Brown. Mr. Horace S. Hawes favored amalgamation. He pointed out that the young men of the association were to be the future Chamber of Commerce members. He said there was no going behind that fact. He favored the joining of forces, and by so doing infusing new energy into the Chamber, many of whose members were growing old and would soon drop. He did not think the young men would be overshedowed.

After the matter had been further disussed at considerable length, Mr. Henry which he set forth that the Young Men's dusiness Association was in a good nancial condition and able to pay every ollar it owed. He thought, though that to continue the organization would be to reaken the Chamber of Commerce, and e opposed that,

ARCHBISHOP CHAPELLE ON THE FRIARS

Their Good Work in Bringing Natives Out of Savagery-Suggested How Latter Has Been Acquired.

WASHINGTON, October 23 .- Archbishop Chapello, of New Orleans, Apostolic Delegate to Cuba, Porto Rico, and the Philippines, to-day gave out the following statement to the Associated

"In answer to General Funston's statement, made in an address to the students of Stanford University, that 'if Congress would drive out the Friars and confiscate every fuch of church property, the bottom would drop out of the insurrection within one week," and that 'the inhabitants of Luzon are completely under the Church,' I deem it proper to make the following public statement: "Knowing what I do, from most reliable authority, of General Function's broad-mindedness and sense of fairness, I do not believe that he has been quoted correctly. He may have stated that the insurgents demand this as a condition of peace; but that he gave them as his own sentiments I cannot credit. From my own experience I know how easily it is to be misquoted. All I can say is, if General Funston did make this statement he manifested a dense ignorance of the work done by the religious orders in this archipelago. On the very face of it, how-ever, it shows quite plainly that it did not come from one as well posted as General Funston should be on affairs in General Funston should be on affairs in Luzon. He is quoted as saying: "The inhabitants of Luzon are completely under the Church.' Now, I would ask how can this be possible, when every priest (with the exception of a few natives) in the Island of Luzon, outside of the walled city of Manila, is a prisoner of the insurgents? For the past eighteen months this state of affairs has existed, and Auring. state of affairs has existed, and during all this period more than three and fifty Friars have been undergoing unheard-of torture in insurgent dungeons. This be-ing a fact; it is hard for me to see how the islands can be 'under the Friars.' It looks to me as though just the opposite were the case. INSURGENTS BUT ONE TRIBEL

It was resolved to issue $2,000 worth of new stock to establish an exchange at Saluda, and run lines to Waterview and "That the insurgents have asked as on of their terms of peace the expulsion of the Friars, and the confiscation to the insurgents of all the Church property, is a fact well known; but we are told by the government officials (and I know it to be a fact from other reliable sources) that the insurgents represent only one tribe ctal.)-Joe Baldwin, a son of Hoyle Baldout of the eighty-five tribes peopling the archipelago, so that the sentiments voices seventy-five feet high yesterday and had by the insurgents about the Friars and Church property cannot be taken as the sentiment of the great body of the natives, any more than they can be taken as the sentiments of the natives toward would have been killed had not his fall been broken by some limbs near the round.

"Whatever the natives are or have they owe to the Friars. By them they were lifted out of savagery and brought under the blessed and refining influences of Christianity. By them they were educated, not only in the schools, but in the fields and the workshops. They were taught by them the very industries which are now the source of their prosperity.

Mr. Peiron, the agent of the Episcopal Mr. Peiton, the agent of the Episcopal foreign mission, tells us that the natives are the most moral and religious people on the face of the globs. Now, the men who taught them to be so can not be such men as some narrow minded ople would try to have us believe. Rev. Dr. Abel, a Scotch Protestant missionary also testifies that nearly the whole popu iation of the Philippine archipelago has been converted to the Catholic faith by the Spanish monks, and a wonderful improvement in their social condition has been the result. He then goes on to show that if any one doubts this improvement, it can easily be made manifest by comparing the Christian native with his southern neighbor of the same blood-the you might as well talk of confiscating the estates of the Vanderbilts, the Astors, estates of the Vandorbilis, the Astors, and other millionaries, whose estates have, in the course of years, grown so wonderfully. There would be just as much right and justice in one case as in the other. The estates of the religious orders have been acquired in the usual way, by purchase, and in the course of WASHINGTON, October 23.—Colonel Summer, Major Storey, Captain Slacum, and Captain Glisson have been detailed to proceed to South Africa and observe and Captain Gisson have been decided to proceed to South Africa and observe and report upon military operations in the Transvaal. A former British Consul (a Protestant) writing on this subject, says: 'It was by means of the estate that the Friars introduced agriculture and settled habits of life among the tribes originally nomadic. It was by means of these estates that they got them to live in villages, and introduced amongst them the arts of civilized life. It was by means of these estates that they acquired the power of inducing them to labor with a certain amount of regularity and mecertain amount of regularity and me-thod-the great safeguard against a re-lapse again into their original state of savagery. was to protest against the looting and desecration of churches in the Philip-PAIRI Accident in North Carolina.

RALEIGH, N. C., October 23.—A special to the News and Observer from Madison, N. C., says: "While Will Hopper and Riley Pierson were removing timbers from the new cotton-mill at Avalon, both were struck by an upright place of timber, which killed Hopper at once and fatally injured Pierson. Pierson is married." pines. This was not the case. As to the looting and desecration of these churches, I am informed by a person whose word I cannot doubt that his looting was not one by our American soldiers, but by the insurgents and the Chinese. A Special Sale of Winter Underwear from a mill which has been selling us yearly thousands of dollars' worth One Dollar and a Dollar-and-Half Underwear for both men and women, and as their season is at an end they gathered together all of their incomplete assortments and sent them to us at big reductions. The Broad-street window is full of bargains, and if you come quickly you can share in them.

We quote only a few prices: For ladies, there are Natural Wool Vests and Pants. White Lamb's-Wool Vests and Pants—the identical goods we had to sell for $1, and which are as good as sl will buy—some at eoc. and some at the Also, Union Suits, in Cream or Natural-Gray Wool, and some Black Equestrian Tights—better than the average $1.50 Suits—which we can seil for $1.

For men, Steam-Shrunk, Natural Wool Shirts and Drawers, of the famous Glastenbury make, the standard price of which is $1.59; sale at $1.19.

Also, from another mill in like circumstances, there comes six cases Man's Heavy Tan and Light-Blue Fleece-Lined Camel's-Hair, Merine, and Mixed Light Wool Shirts and Drawers, better than most of the 69c. goods, for 39c. garment.
